

EIACP RP on Combating Desertification, ICAR- Central Arid Zone Research Institute, Jodhpur celebrated the “World Wetlands Day-2024”

EIACP RP unit at ICAR – CAZRI, Jodhpur celebrated “World Wetlands Day” on 2nd of February 2024 under the direction of Director CAZRI, Dr. O.P. Yadav. A “Guest Lecture” by Eminent Geologist and “Speech Competition” among the school students were the major activities. EIACP Coordinator, Dr. P.C. Moharana, talked about the importance of this Day as well as about the regular activities of EIACP Office. Prof. (Dr.) Arun Vyas, Principal, Govt. Girls College, Soorsagar, Jodhpur & Eminent Geologist gave a talk on the importance of World Wetlands Day. Students from Lucky Bal Niketan Sr. Sec. School, Jodhpur took part and deliberated upon their understanding on the Wetlands during the Speech competition. Prizes and certificates were distributed to the winners. Vote of thanks was extended by EIACP Member Dr. Vipin Choudhary for this excellent lecture and also thanked to all for attending this important day celebration.

The event was managed by Dr. Manoj Parihar, Dr. Mayur Bhati, Sonali, Avinash Khatri. About 74 students from school, Scientists from CAZRI, Technical officers and EIACP staff members actively participated in the event. The participants also visited Agri-Eco-Tourism park of the institute and came to know about the native flora of desert region having herbal and economic importance.